Daughters of Charity Disability Support Services

Privacy Statement

Privacy Statement

This website is maintained by the Daughters of Charity Disability Support Services. Our Privacy Statement relates to our privacy practices in connection with this website. We are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of other websites. Any external links to other websites are clearly identifiable as such.

We do not store or collect any personal information about site users. Any personal information which you choose to send to us via the website will be treated with the highest standards of security and confidentiality, strictly in accordance with the Data Protection Acts 1988 and 2003.

Collection and Use of Personal Data

We do not collect any personal data about you on this website, apart from information which you send to us by email or by means of an enquiry.

Any personal data which you provide is not shared or made available to any third parties save your express permission to do so or in the event that there is a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation or in order to enforce terms and conditions of the supply of services.

Data Security

All Personal Data will be stored subject to appropriate technical and organisational security measures designed to protect against unauthorised or unlawful processing of Personal Data and against accidental loss or destruction of, or damage to, Personal Data. The Daughters of Charity Disability Support Services will take all reasonable steps to ensure the reliability of any employees who have access to Personal Data.

Collection and Use of Technical Information

Cookies: This website uses cookies. A cookie is a piece of data stored on the user’s hard drive while they are visiting a particular website. It contains simple information about the user’s identity but no personal information. When the user closes their browser, the cookie is destroyed. You can set your computer not to accept cookies without a loss of the functionality on this website.
Log Files. Technical details in connection to this website are logged by our internet service provider. No information is collected that could be used by us to identify website visitors and the log does not contain any Personal Information. Our website has links to other agencies. Please note, if you access another site through a link we provide, you are subject to the privacy policy of that site and links to other websites do not constitute an endorsement of that website by the Daughters of Charity Disability Support Services.

Changes to this Privacy Statement

If there are changes to this Privacy Statement, we will place an updated version on this page. Regularly reviewing this page ensures you are always aware of the information that we collect, how we use it and under what circumstances, if any, we share it with other parties.

Useful Links

Please refer to our Data Protection Statement on our website http://www.docservice.ie

This Statement details your rights under Data Protection, responsibilities of the Service as a Data Controller and how you can make a Data Subject Request for Personal Information under the Data Protection Acts, 1988 and 2003.

You can also refer to our Freedom of Information Section of our website which will outline the Daughters of Charity Disability Support Services responsibilities under the Freedom of Information Act 2014. It will also provide you with guidance as to how to make a request for Information under the Freedom of Information Act 2014.

Cookies Statement available on our website.